

Dr. Miles Murphy Speaks to PTA At First Meeting

Audience Introduced to Narberth School Faculty Social Hour to Follow

"A Well-Balanced Parent and a Well-Balanced Child" will be defined by Dr. Miles Murphy, associate professor of the University of Pennsylvania, at the opening meeting of the Narberth P. T. A. Monday evening, September 27, at 8:15 P. M., in the Narberth Public School Auditorium.

Dr. Miles, a resident of Merion, is also a personnel officer and the examining psychologist in the psychological clinic of the University.

Mrs. Marjorie Cruden, soprano soloist, of Ridley Park, will sing two groups of songs. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Nancy Milne, concert pianist.

Walter J. Drennan, principal of the Narberth School, will introduce the members of the faculty to the audience. A social hour to follow the program is being prepared by Mrs. Richard T. Smith and her Hospitality committee.

Officers for the coming year include the Reverend Harold D. Flood, president; G. Odell Fletcher, first vice-president; Willis D. Ludwig, second vice-president; Mrs. G. B. MacLaren, secretary, and Donald Drain, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are: program, Sterling F. Chain; hospitality, Mrs. Richard T. Smith; budget and finance, Mrs. G. Odell Fletcher; summer round-up and child welfare, Mrs. Karl Williams; social service, Mrs. Charles T. Nevin; historian, Mrs. M. A. Gordy; public relations, Mrs. Stanton L. Nelson; legislation, Mrs. G. A. Purring; and publicity, Mrs. L. A. Drake.

The Executive Board of the P. T. A. will meet on the first Monday of the month beginning in October. Regular P. T. A. will continue to be held on the 3rd Monday of the month.

Mrs. G. Odell Fletcher, membership chairman, has announced the opening of inter school room contests.

A prize gift will be awarded to the class securing the most memberships in the P. T. A. New members may pay the fee of 50 cents per person at the first meeting to be held Monday evening, September 27, at the school.

Cooke Explains Port Needs to Business Group

Speaks at Dinner Meeting of Main Line Chamber of Commerce

Col. Jay Cooke, a member of the executive committee of the Republican State Committee and vice chairman of the Metropolitan Republican Finance Committee, spoke Tuesday night at a dinner meeting of the Main Line Junior Chamber of Commerce—and didn't say a word about the Presidential election. The meeting was at the Wayne Hotel.

He talked instead about the work of the Delaware River Joint Commission, of which he is also a member. The Commission's objective, he declared, is to increase the tonnage of the Delaware River port, which he described as extending "from Trenton to the sea" and which he said is the second largest seacoast port in the country.

In order to accomplish the objective, Cooke said a preliminary survey showed the river water will have to be purified so that shippers can bring vessels into the river without damage to shipbottoms. In addition, pier facilities will have to be greatly enlarged and modernized and truck and rail facilities leading to the port must be enlarged and improved.

The Main Line Junior Chamber of Commerce was organized in March, 1946 and proceedings for incorporation as a non-profit corporation were started last Spring. The organization expects to receive its charter from Harrisburg very soon. Officers are John R. Graham, Vilanova, president; Irwin Barton, Overbrook, first vice president; James Cox, Radnor, second vice president; Eugene C. Swift, Wayne, third vice president; George D. Myers, Ardmore, fourth vice president; William Drury, Wynnewood, secretary; Joseph E. Morris, Narberth, treasurer, and Seymour Green, Bryn Mawr, counsel.

Resume Classes At Arboretum

The Arboretum of the Barnes Foundation, Merion, has resumed the ninth year of courses in botany, horticulture, and landscape architecture, it has been announced.

As in the past there will be no tuition charges and classes will meet on Mondays and Tuesdays. Instructors include: Dr. John M. G. Jr., Dr. William Seifriz, Dr. Peter Steckbeck, Dr. E. T. Wherry, of the department of botany of the University of Pennsylvania; Dr. T. Skinner, Curator of the Morris Arboretum, Chestnut Hill; Dr. S. Kissler, Landscape architect.

Laura L. Barnes, Director of the Arboretum of the Barnes Foundation.

WILLIAM E. WATERS

William E. Waters Succumbs at 81

Executive Was One of Essex Ave. Residents

Solemn requiem mass will be sung in St. Margaret's Church, Narberth, at 10 A. M. Friday, for William E. Waters, of 219 Essex Avenue, Narberth, who died Monday in Misericordia Hospital after a brief illness. He was 81.

A native of County Galway, Ireland, Mr. Waters had lived in Narberth since 1910. He was a general manager of Merchant & Evans Co., a Philadelphia metals and manufacturing concern.

He was a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Margaret's Church; the Philadelphia Council, No. 196, K. of C. Archbishop Ryan Assembly, 4th Degree, and the Catholic Philopartian Literary Institute.

He is survived by a nephew, William E. Lynch, with whom he lived, and a niece, Sister Maura, of the Notre Dame convent, Namur, Belgium, the former Mollie F. Lynch.

Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Jefferson Yowell Succumbs at 84

Long-Time Boro Resident Was Landscape Gardener

Jefferson Davis Yowell, landscape gardener in Narberth for many years before his retirement 20 years ago, died suddenly Friday, at his home, 210 Elmwood Ave., Narberth. He was 84.

A native of Madison County, Va., Mr. Yowell had resided in Narberth for the past 46 years, and during his landscaping career had graded many of the present properties in Narberth.

He was a member of the Patriotic Order Sons of America No. 136 of Ardmore, and the Red Men of Bryn Mawr.

Husband of the late Ella Blanche Yowell, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Frederick Thomas, of Overbrook; two sons, Benjamin F., with whom he lived, and Quincy L., of Llanerch Hills; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the St. Paul Funeral Home, Ardmore. Burial was in Arlington Cemetery.

VMSC Opens Fund Drive This Week to Meet High Cost of Operation

The Volunteer Medical Service Corps of Narberth opened its fund drive this week with the sending of letters to Narberth and local community residents requesting membership in the corps.

The letter states: "Frankly we need your financial and moral support. . . first, we must meet the increased cost of medical supplies, maintenance, insurance, telephone and laundry service. Secondly, there is still a small balance to be paid on the new ambulance."

In the past four years the corps has answered 600 ambulance calls, 205 of which have been in the past year. Membership for the year is $2.

M-L Lions to Honor President Tonight

The Main Line Lions' Club will honor its president, Edward J. Kelly, at a President's Night meeting at the Conestoga Mill Inn, Bryn Mawr, tonight.

A movie commemorating Pennsylvania Week titled "Pennsylvania the Beautiful" will be shown.

Bala-Cynwyd Boy Held Under Bail For Grand Jury

16-Yr.-Old Will Plead Not Guilty to Charge of Involuntary Manslaughter

Thomas F. Reilly, 2d, 16, of 5 Bryn Mawr Ave., Bala-Cynwyd, was held under $2500 bail Thursday for the Montgomery County Grand Jury by Judge Harold G. Knight. He was charged with involuntary manslaughter.

Earlier the same day, a coroner's jury had ordered him held for juvenile court, ruling that he was the driver of a station wagon carrying eight boys which sideswiped a parked automobile in Cynwyd August 14, and then overturned.

David J. McKeon, 17, of 101 Bentley Ave., Bala-Cynwyd, died of a fractured skull received in the accident, and five other boys were injured.

Following the inquest, Reilly declared his intention of pleading not guilty, and Peter Frasnino, juvenile probation officer, filed a petition with the court asking that the case be certified to the Court of Quarter Sessions. Judge Knight issued the order and set the bail, which was furnished.

According to juvenile court law, only defendants pleading guilty to a serious charge may be heard. Those pleading not guilty must appear before the Grand Jury and be indicted must then appear for a trial by jury in Criminal Court.

The only two witnesses called by Coroner Winslow J. Bushong at the inquest were Sgt. R. Bruce Valentine, of the Lower Merion Township Police, and Paul M. Adelizio, 18, of 231 Avon Rd., Merion, who was a passenger in the station wagon.

Sgt. Valentine told the coroner's jury that the police had a complete file on the accident and that on the basis of the investigation, in his opinion, Reilly should be held for juvenile court. He said that when he saw Reilly there was no evidence that he had been drinking.

Adelizio stated that although "some of the boys" were drinking at the Reilly home the evening of August 14, he had not seen Reilly drink anything at the time.

He further said that when the youths went to a tap room at Levers Mill Rd. and Montgomery Ave. after leaving the Reilly home, he himself did not enter the place immediately and that when he did, Reilly was telephoning. He did not see him drink anything there either, he said.

Later he was asked about his former statement that the station wagon was drinking.

(Continued on Page Three)

Baptist Students Hold Rally Day

Attendance Awards Are Given; Promotions Made

Rally Day services of the Sunday School of the Narberth Baptist Church of the Evangel, Narberth, will be held this Sunday at 9:45 A. M. in the church sanctuary.

At the special exercises attendance awards will be presented to those pupils who have met the attendance requirements during the past year, and promotion will be made for pupils advancing to other departments.

Teachers and officers of the Church School will participate in a ceremony of dedication to the work of the coming year. A message to all assembled will be given by the Reverend Robert G. Middleton, pastor of the church.

The Sunday School is eager to expand all of its classes and departments. In addition to the cradle roll its members include active groups ranging from the nursery school to adult class conducted by the pastor. The regular attendance of children and adults who are not presently affiliated with any local church or church school is earnestly sought.

Social Security Is Rotary Topic

H. G. Robbins Is Guest Speaker on Tuesday

Stating that the two major economic hazards which face the individual are premature death at a time when he may not be able to provide for his family, and living too long, so that he becomes a burden to his family, H. Griffith Robbins, of Philadelphia, addressed the Tuesday meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club.

Robbins, a graduate of the Overbrook School for the Blind and the University of Pennsylvania, spoke before the group, which included 23 visitors, at the Overbrook Country Club.

In the beginning, Robbins continued, the social security laws were not as broad in application as they are today. They now provide that if a man dies after having worked a certain number of years his wife and school age children will be benefited.

He was introduced by Carl B. Metzger, chairman for the day.

ROTARY CLUB

Lower Merion to Vote on School Bond Issue

$2,950,000 Sought by Board for Building Improvements

Lower Merion Township School Board Monday night voted to place a $2,950,000 bond issue before the voters in the November election.

Proceeds of the bond issue, if approved, will be used for the construction of a Penn Valley elementary school, an additional wing to the Penn Wynne Elementary School, and the building of a new cafeteria in Lower Merion Senior High School.

Designed to alleviate the crowded conditions existing in township elementary schools, the proposed Penn Valley school will accommodate the overflow of pupils in the Cynwyd and Merion schools.

School board officials commented that an estimate of school population growth made in 1944 showing the need for the new school by 1950 has already been exceeded.

The new addition to the Penn Wynne school will provide extra class rooms for home-making, instrumental music and vocal instruction with two rooms to be used by kindergarten classes.

The construction of the new cafeteria in the senior high school will provide dining room space for over 1500 pupils who are now, the board said, using a cafeteria which is "about the size of an elementary school lunchroom."

The Penn Valley School will be built at an estimated cost of $1,466,443 on a 12-acre tract at Righters Mill Rd. and Montgomery Ave.

Architect's plans call for a one-story building, to be constructed in a modern, but "not modernistic" style.

The building, including two open-air concrete play areas, will cover five and one-half acres, leaving a remnant of six acres for lawns and play fields.

Incorporated into the plans are suggestions made by township principals and teachers who have a working knowledge of the requirements of the school.

(Continued on Page Three)

3031 Register Here for Draft

Enrollment 700 Below Original Estimates

The peace-time draft registration for Lower Merion Township and Narberth and West Conshohocken Boroughs fell short of the expected enrollment of 3750 by more than 700 registrants, it was disclosed this week.

The local board in Bryn Mawr reported a total registration of 3,021 at the close of the two-and-a-half week registration period Saturday night. However, according to Mrs. Sadie C. Lewis, chief registrar, ten delinquents enrolled Monday, swelling the figure to 3031.

Of these there are only 942 eligible for the first draft call scheduled for November 21. And in turn, only a few of these will probably be called as the quota for all of Pennsylvania is listed at 630 men.

The quota for the country for the first call is 10,000, but the Army will have facilities for training 15,000 more men in December, and 25,000 monthly thereafter, according to Col. Henry M. Gross, State Selective Service Director.

In the meantime, as local men reach the age of 18, they will continue to register at the headquarters in the War Memorial Building, Bryn Mawr and Lancaster Aves., Bryn Mawr.

So far this week a total of 23 18-year-olds have registered, 11 on Monday, 7 on Tuesday, and 5 on Wednesday.

LM School Tuition Rates Increased This Year

A report on the tuition rates of Lower Merion Township schools made at a meeting of the School Board Monday night shows an increase over 1947 rates.

Tuition to Lower Merion Senior High School for pupils living outside the school district is $271.36, an increase of $50 over last year. The Junior High School fee is $293.04, an increase of $40, and the elementary rate is $291.88 for the school year, an increase of $35.

Thief Drives $3850 Lincoln Sedan Through Door of Scott Building

An impatient car thief drove a brand new $3850 Lincoln Cosmopolitan town sedan through a glass and frame overhead door at the Raymond P. Scott, Inc., showrooms in Wynnewood early Saturday morning.

Damage to the door of the ultra-modern glass structure at 265 E. Lancaster Ave., was estimated at $400; and to the car, later recovered in Philadelphia, at $600.

After gaining entrance by breaking a window in one of the overhead doors at the side of the building, the thief, according to Lower Merion Township police, climbed into the car, backed it to one side of the 50-foot wide structure, and drove full-tilt through the other closed door and out into the street.

The door was completely demolished, and the car, when found outside another Lincoln agency in Philadelphia, had dented front fenders and was minus the hub caps, fender skirts and the spare tire and wheel.

The theft was discovered at 7 A. M. by Lower Merion Patrolman Roland Barrow as he was making his rounds. Barrow said the place was undisturbed when he made an earlier visit at 4 A. M.

The Scott showroom and garage is the newest and one of the most modern automobile agency buildings in Lower Merion Township. The showroom at the front is constructed entirely of glass, projecting upwards at an out-going angle.

The overhead doors, leading into the garage and work rooms at the side and rear of the building, are electrically controlled and require only a push button to open wide.

The new building was designed by J. Bedford Woolley, of Ardmore, and constructed by the H. C. Grau Company, of Philadelphia, at a cost of $250,000. It was formally opened July 13 at ceremonies in which Congressman Samuel K. McConnell, Jr., of Wynnewood, participated.

The Scott agency was formerly located at 43 E. Lancaster Ave., Ardmore.

Merion Friends To Mark 266th Anniversary

Announce Program for Founders Day to Be Observed on Sunday

The 266th anniversary of the establishment of the Merion Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends will be observed at the annual Founder's Day program Sunday, at 2:30 P. M., at the Meeting House, Montgomery Ave., and Meeting House Lane, Merion.

The observance commemorates the purchases of land from William Penn by John Thomas and Edward Jones, on September 16 and 17, 1681, that led to the original settlement of Merion by the Welsh Friends in August, 1682, and to the founding of the Merion Meeting.

The program will open with the reading of selections from the Original Language from the Old Welsh Bible which dates back to 1790.

Speakers on the program will be Eric Johnson, headmaster of Friends' Central School, 68th and City Line Ave., Overbrook, and Dr. Howard Wayne Smith, Mr. Johnson has listed as his topic "Are Our Children Being Educated for the Twentieth Century."

Dr. Smith will speak on "An Old Resident Looks at Merion's History."

Mrs. Marge Coggeshall will be in charge of the music program and Mrs. Jean Parcher will provide vocal selections.

Following the program a committee headed by Mrs. John Ruckdeschel will serve refreshments. The group will include Mrs. Marian T. Justice, Mrs. Oscar W. Davis, Mrs. Martha Bolten, Mrs. George Greenbeck, Mrs. Richard S. Nausbaum, and Mrs. L. W. Kindred.

Business Women Open Fall Season

Eleanor Bodine Fisher Talks on United Nations

The Main Line Business and Professional Women's Club held its first meeting of the season at the Conestoga Mill, Wednesday, September 16, at 6:30 P. M. Attending the dinner were 38 members and four potential members.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Barbara Moxon, chairman of the International Relations Committee, introduced the guest speaker, Eleanor Bodine Fisher, executive director of the United Nations. She talked to the club members on the organization of the U. N. as to set-up and departments. A five-minute quiz followed her speech.

On October 13 the Business and Professional women will make a one-day trip to Lake Success. The next meeting will be held October 10 with dinner at College Inn. At this time it will be decided where all future meetings will be held.

LIONS SPEAKER

Autocar to Open Assembly Lines For Penna. Week

Invites Visitors to 'Open House' Next Wednesday, Thursday

The Autocar Company, biggest industrial concern in this area, will open its assembly lines on Greenfield Ave., Ardmore, to the public in observance of Pennsylvania Week.

Company officials set the hours of 1 to 3:30 P. M. on both Wednesday and Thursday, September 29 and 30, for the "open house," the first ever arranged by the truck manufacturing company.

The only automotive assembly lines in Montgomery Co., the Autocar lines will be in full operation during the two open house days. Visitors, conducted by guides, will see at the start of the line the simple frame rails to which are attached in progressive sequence all the elements and parts of the complete chassis. At the end of the line, they will see the completed vehicles moving out of the big exit doors under their own power. The guides will explain all operations and answer questions.

Officials of the company said that the open house had been arranged in conformity with Gov. Duff's proclamation of Pennsylvania Week and the special efforts that have been made by the Montgomery County Manufacturers' Association to let the people of the county become more familiar with the important part that industry plays in the economic life of the area.

Visitors to the plant are asked to assemble at the dispensary building on the south side of Lancaster Ave., opposite the main Autocar building. From there the guides will take them to the assembly lines. Parking space will be provided near the dispensary.

"The Autocar management," a spokesman for the company said yesterday, "particularly welcomes this opportunity to hold 'open house' for the businessmen and others of the local community with whom Autocar has lived and worked as neighbors and friends for so many years."

Announcement of the open house emphasized that children under 12 would not be admitted for reasons of personal safety.

Public to Meet Candidates in League Project

L-M Voters Plan Discussion; List UN Working Objectives

A public "Candidates' Meeting" at which Lambert Cadwalader and Emily L. Ehle, Republican and Democratic candidates for Representative in the General Assembly, will discuss "Topics of Interest to Pennsylvania voters," has been announced by the League of Women Voters of Lower Merion Township.

To be held Friday, October 22, at Baldwin School, at 8:15 P. M., the League has planned a question period following the talks. Voters will also have a chance to meet their Committeemen and Committeewomen at the meeting.

In line with the League's efforts to acquaint Main Line residents with the work of the United Nations, a UN workshop for members and their friends has been organized by Mrs. Hugh Montgomery, of Ardmore, Chairman of International Relations.

Mrs. Montgomery has also invited local civic groups to send representatives to take part in the workshop, which is one of the many being organized throughout the nation.

Veterans Class Planned Here

To Meet in LM High School October 4

Related training classes for veterans who are working in trades with apprenticeships will be held at Lower Merion High School again this year, Superintendent of Schools F. A. Dubois announced this week.

According to provisions established by the Department of Public Instruction at Harrisburg, 144 hours of related instruction per year are required for veterans who are working in trades.

Registration will be held at the Technical Division of the Senior High School Wednesday and Thursday from 7 to 9 P. M. A representative of the Veterans Administration will be present both nights.

Classes, under the direction of Russell McGrath, will begin Monday, October 4, and continue two nights a week until the 144 hours have been completed.

Polio in Township Highest in County

Lower Merion Township, according to the Montgomery County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, has had more polio cases so far this year than any other community in the county.

The county total to date numbers 37 cases. Of these Lower Merion has had 13 polio victims, one a fatality. No new cases were reported in the local township this week, however, and only two cases of contagious diseases were listed, one each of mumps and whooping cough.

B-C RESIDENTS SERVE ON JURY

School to Study State's Progress In Penna. Week

Will Review History and Customs, Hear of its Varied Life

An integrated school-wide study of the Keystone State will be featured during Pennsylvania Week, starting Monday, in the Narberth Public School.

From the youngest child to the oldest, every pupil will concentrate on Pennsylvania's history and customs and her contributions to the industrial, social, political and cultural life of the United States.

In the primary grades the pupils will collect postcards and souvenirs from the state's historic and scenic spots and antique articles made in Pennsylvania. These will be used as a museum exhibit after class-room study. The youngsters will also take an imaginary bus trip through Pennsylvania and read several books about Pennsylvania children. In addition, they will study Narberth as a typical suburban Pennsylvania community.

Intermediate pupils have made posters on "First in Pennsylvania" to be used for bulletin board displays during the observance. They will add to the museum collection and make a scrapbook of newspaper clippings, reports and pictures. In the fourth grade, the pupils are studying Narberth, Philadelphia and the state during the year in their social studies course.

In the three upper grades, the sixth, seventh and eighth, the Pennsylvania Week observance will be emphasized in every course. In social studies, the state's historic background will be stressed as well as its natural resources and their use.

English classes will feature story writing and floor talks on Pennsylvania vacation trips and a study of the poetry and literature of Pennsylvania.

In mathematics, the pupils will make graphs of industrial production, crops, population and area of sections of the state.

In shop classes, the early trades and industries of the state will be studied as well as the early and present use of Pennsylvania woods. Home-making students will contrast early homes with today's homes in the state and will study early Pennsylvania crafts.

Hygiene pupils will study the scientists of Pennsylvania, local sanitation methods, the Schuylkill River project and the growth of Philadelphia as a medical center.

Music courses will feature reports on the growth of music in the state, learning of songs by Foster, Cadman and Nevin; an exhibition of portraits of Pennsylvania musicians and the performance of Pennsylvania music by the pupils. In addition, the classes will learn "Pennsylvania," a song by Mrs. Gertrude Martin Rohrer.

In art classes there will be an exhibit of miniature Pennsylvania Dutch furniture and models of historic buildings. The pupils will also study Pennsylvania Dutch, Swedish and Welsh designs and the lives of Pennsylvania artists.

Radio programs will be used throughout the week in the classrooms and the assembly programs on October 1 will feature the Esso color film, "Pennsylvania." There will also be a library exhibit of books about Pennsylvania and by Pennsylvania authors.

Frank C. Sheppard, 63, Dies in BM Hospital

Funeral services for Frank C. Sheppard, of 27 Sabine Ave., Narberth, who died Saturday in Bryn Mawr Hospital after a short illness, were held Wednesday afternoon from the Frankenhoff & Chadwick Funeral Home, Ardmore. He was 63.

Born in Columbus, Ohio, Mr. Sheppard had lived in Bryn Mawr for 20 years before moving to Narberth in 1947. Employed in the Purchasing Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad for approximately 40 years, he was a Shriner and a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Ardmore.

He is survived by his wife, Clara M. Sheppard; two sons, Richard L., of Chicago, Ill., and Frank C., Jr., of Narberth; and one grandchild. Burial was in St. Paul's Cemetery.

BORO LIBRARY OBSERVES PENNSYLVANIA WEEK

In keeping with the observance of Pennsylvania Week from September 26 to October 2, the Narberth Community Library will like to call attention to the fact that there are a number of books on Pennsylvania in their collection.

Among the more familiar and popular of these are several by Corneille Weyandt, such as Philadelphia Folks and The Dutch Country. Others are Henry Seidel Canby's The Brandywine, and Harry Emerson Wildie's The Delaware.

Newer books on Pennsylvania include Pennsylvania Dutch Cookbook, by Ruth Hutchison; Meet the Amish, by Charles S. Wright, and It's an Old Pennsylvania Custom, by Edwin V. Mitchell.

Frederick A. Hart, Jr., of 204 Clywd Rd., Cynwyd, and Mrs. Marion Cooper, of Bala-Cynwyd, have been selected to serve as jurors in the trial of three Philadelphia men accused of conspiracy to obstruct and delay interstate commerce in Philadelphia's Dock St. produce

School to Study State's Progress In Penna. Week

Will Review History and Customs, Hear of its Varied Life

An integrated school-wide study of the Keystone State will be featured during Pennsylvania Week, starting Monday, in the Narberth Public School.

From the youngest child to the oldest, every pupil will concentrate on Pennsylvania's history and customs and her contributions to the industrial, social, political and cultural life of the United States.

In the primary grades the pupils will collect postcards and souvenirs from the state's historic and scenic spots and antique articles made in Pennsylvania. These will be used as a museum exhibit after class-room study. The youngsters will also take an imaginary bus trip through Pennsylvania and read several books about Pennsylvania children. In addition, they will study Narberth as a typical suburban Pennsylvania community.

Intermediate pupils have made posters on "First in Pennsylvania" to be used for bulletin board displays during the observance. They will add to the museum collection and make a scrapbook of newspaper clippings, reports and pictures. In the fourth grade, the pupils are studying Narberth, Philadelphia and the state during the year in their social studies course.

In the three upper grades, the sixth, seventh and eighth, the Pennsylvania Week observance will be emphasized in every course. In social studies

